Uneasy Peace Has Returned To Holy Land

Palestinians Given "Breathing Spell" By Shoot-On-Sight Order To Halt Violence

FURTHER TROUBLE FEARED IMMINENT (BULLETIN)

JERUSALEM, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A new flareup of violence in which at least three Jews were killed broke the uneasy peace of Sabbath day in Palestine today.

The three lost their lives in renewed Arab-Jewish fighting on the dangerous border line between Jaffa and Tel Aviv.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 6.—An uneasy peace returned to the Holy Land today but no one knew when the next Arab-Jewish explosion would come.

The Jewish Sabbath and enforcement of a "shoot-on-sight" order against curfew violators in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area, a chief trouble-spot in Arab-Jewish relations, served to give Palestinians a breathing spell.

Estimate Toll At 110

The known death toll for the last three days was 56 in Palestine, with another 44 killed in riots in the British protectorate of Aden. The Middle East death toll since Arabs started rioting against partition was estimated at 110, including killings at Damascus and other cities.

No new Arab-Jewish incidents were reported up to 10 a. m. Jerusalem time after last night's renewal of fighting in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv no-man's land.

In Cairo, the weekly newspaper Akbar Elyon said the Arabs have decided to occupy Palestinian territory during the evacuation of British troops.

Molotov Sidesteps Any Discussion Of Issues At Dinner For Marshall

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Western delegation circles have virtually abandoned all hope that any basic agreement on Germany and Austria will be reached at the current conference of Big Four foreign ministers.

It is believed that Russia has no intention of modifying its policy sufficiently to permit an understanding with the Western powers over German and Austrian problems.

This belief gained ground as the result of Soviet Foreign Minister

Molotov's attitude at yesterday's luncheon meeting with Secretary of State Marshall.

Luncheon Failure
It was learned on high authority today that the luncheon was a complete failure insofar as conference business was concerned.

The American delegation had attached great importance to the luncheon when the invitation was received by Marshall.

The fact that Molotov had limited the invitation to the American secretary and three of his top advisors, excluding John Foster Dulles, Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, and

Perjury Probe Now Indicated

House Committee May Investigate Some Anti-Communist Affidavit Signing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A member of the House Un-American Activities Committee revealed today that the group will attempt to determine whether any union officials committed perjury in signing non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley law.

Rep. McDowell (R) Pa., said that the committee will check its secret files in an effort to find out if any Communist holding office in labor unions swore that they were not party members.

He explained that the check will be made in the near future and that information obtained will be given to the Justice Department for use in preparing perjury cases.

McDowell also disclosed that the committee may hold public hearings, if necessary, to determine whether any members of the Communist party signed the affidavits.

PROBE DEATH OF MAN NEAR YORK

YORK, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—York County District Attorney Harold Rudisill will confer with state police today on the fatal shooting of William P. Heyneman, 27-year-old husband of a woman suffering apparently from amnesia in a Harrisburg hospital.

Local police reported an autopsy performed last night revealed Heyneman had been dead for "several" days. He reportedly had been shot near the right armpit with a small caliber rifle. No powder burns were found on his underclothing or skin, police said.

Rifle Is Found

A 22 calibre rifle was found beside Heyneman's body by police who broke into his three-room home in a remote mountainous section of northern York county in an effort to establish the identity of Mrs. Marian Heyneman, 28.

She was taken to the Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg after driving up to a local gasoline station in a dazed condition. Accompanying her was her 14-month-old daughter, Cheryl. Another child, Karen, 3, was found at the home of a family friend in York.

Heyneman was last seen Monday night shopping at a grocery store near Anderson.

Duff on June 20, 1947, which reads in part "Section B: The board of school directors of any school district shall have power to enter into a contract of lease and release with any non-profit corporation established for the purpose of erecting athletic stadia, including adequate equipment for the athletic fields connected therewith as well as fence enclosures and lighting systems therefor for the use of the school district under which contract the school district shall lease land owned by it to the non-profit corporation. Little Assembly Likely To Meet On January 5

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(INS)—The United Nations tentatively planned today to convene the "Little Assembly" into initial session on January 5.

The offspring of the 57-nation General Assembly, originated by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and approved by a substantial two-thirds vote, will make its debut in the face of a snub by the Soviet bloc. This will leave six seats empty when the gavel raps for order.

The majority of the "Little Assembly" representatives, it is fore-shadowed in that list, are going to be members of the diplomatic missions in Washington.

Arrest Five In Counterfeiting Gang In Chicago

Allege $1,000,000 In Bogus Currency Has Been Passed Since Last July

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Five-man counterfeiting gang, alleged to have passed $1,000,000 in bogus currency since last July was smashed today with the arrest of the ring-leader in Chicago.

The alleged leader of the gang, Joseph Moschiano, 38, was arrested this morning in his Chicago home. Secret service agents found $350,000 in counterfeit $10 bills, walled up behind planks in a garage in the rear of the house.

Harry D. Anheier, secret service head in Chicago, said:

"We tore the garage apart to find the bills."
Anheier said capture of Moschiano completed apprehension of the gang, which he described as the largest in the city since 1934. He said four of the members of the gang had been rounded up earlier.

The secret service chief said that $400,000 in $10 bills had been printed in a vacant store building in Chicago and another $200,000 in $20's had been printed in the home of one of the members of the gang.

Seek Railroader In Death Of Wife By Shotgun Blast

Jeannette Man Escapes After Fatal Shooting Near Home Of Her Victim

JEANNETTE, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Franklin Robinson, 32-year-old railroad fireman, was sought by police today, following the shotgun death of his wife last night, half a block from her parents' home.

Mrs. Frances Robinson, mother of an 18-month-old boy, was ambushed as she returned from a visit to a cousin. She was felled by two blasts from a 12-gauge shotgun that struck her in the abdomen and head.

The killer had waited for her beside a playground.

Police sought Robinson, missing from his home since Friday afternoon, after neighbors who heard the shots said they saw a gray sedan speed away from the scene. Police Lieut. Louis Hartle said Robinson owns a gray sedan.

Police said tire tracks in the playground indicated where the killer had waited.

The slain woman was married to Robinson in March, 1945, while he was a sergeant in the army. They were separated last spring.

Some Hope Held For Settlement Of French Strike

Hint Of Possibility Of Peaceful Settlement In National Crisis

FIVE REDS FROM ITALY ARRESTED

By ROBERT PARKER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 6.—French police announced today the arrest of five Italian Communists who had been sent into the Riviera city of Nice by "party orders."

They were armed with revolvers, and according to the police announcement, admitted they had been dispatched to France by Communist authorities.

This development occurred soon after the Council of the Republic had approved Premier Robert Schuman's drastic anti-strike legislation measures and at a moment when French Communists were hinting at the possibility of a peaceful settlement in the national crisis.

See "Back To Work" Movement
The ministry of the interior reiterated that a strong "back to work" movement is evident.

But Communist flying squads of some twenty men each continued sabotage of railways.

Strikers fought police and occupied stations at Valenciennes, Lens, Vierzou, Chateauroux, Bourges and Nice. In the latter city, strong-arm squads overturned trolley cars.

The government dispatched additional troops to Southern France to quell riots which have been termed as verging on "open insurrection."

Possible To End Strike

With parliamentary action completed on the anti-strike program, Communist Deputy Ambroise Croizat suggested that his party be lieves it possible to end the strike crisis which had kept France in violent turmoil for weeks and nearly wrecked its economy.

An indication that both the government and the strike unions already may have started the search for the common ground of agreement was forthcoming in a noon conference between Labor Minister Daniel Mayer and Leon Jouhaux. Jouhaux is a Socialist leader of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor which is leading the strikes. The debate in the assembly, which previously approved the anti-strike bill, veered toward conciliation after Croizat's negotiation hint.

Heavy Punishment
The upper legislative body approved by a 217 to 82 vote the assembly adopted anti-strike program permitting the punishment of strike agitators and saboteurs by jail terms up to ten years.

The Communists however succeeded in having sent to the commission of the interior for consideration a resolution forbidding the interference of colonial troops in the strike situation.

Several policemen and demonstrators were wounded late last night in a disorderly rally organized by the Union of French Women at St. Etienne, and several arrests were made.

The government, backed by the assembly in its decision to permit troops to fire on rioters in self-defense, dispatched five battalions of troops to St. Etienne and Valenciennes, industrial and communications hubs menaced by the Communists.

St. Etienne, and Arles, respectively 150 and 50 miles north of Marseille, were in Communist hands for several hours Friday before reinforced police regained control.

showed 175 persons were killed or wounded during the three-day Arab general strike in Palestine which ended yesterday.

This included 27 Arabs, 27 Jews and two Armenians killed, and 61 Jews, 49 Arabs and nine police and soldiers wounded.

Despite the lull in fighting this morning, both Jews and Arabs were vigilant. The Jewish militia Haganah claimed it had blown up an Arab headquarters in the center of Tel Aviv following yesterday's Arab attack on Tel Aviv and new Arab reprisals were feared.

Houses Burned
Thirty houses were put to the torch by Jews in the shadow of the battle-ground and the smoke and flames cast an eerie glow over the area.

The British Red sea colony of Aden also was reported tense after an end to bloody fighting and 19 Jews in the past four days, which took the lives of 30 Arabs.

A British naval party and Sudanese troops helped to keep order in the riot-torn port city pending the arrival of British airborne troops being flown in from the Suez canal zone.

Dispatches from Beirut said meanwhile that the Lebanese parliament approved a $450,000 appropriation to help Palestine Arabs fight the partition plan. Most of the money is to come from goods consigned to Palestine.

Judge Braham
Scores Rackets In Allegheny County

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A visiting judge put the finger on rackets in Allegheny county.

Judge W. Walter Braham of Lawrence county, filling in during the judge shortage, told a jury yesterday he regretted evidence the trial disclosed of flourishing rackets in the county.

The case in question involved Robert Gould, 25, part-time employee of a northside cafe. Gould was accused of stealing $5,000 from the cafe's funds.

The assistant district attorney told the jury, however, that if they believed the funds did not come from the cafe as charged but from money received from the rackets, Gould should be found not guilty.

Gould was acquitted in less than 10 minutes.

has been obtained by the school district shall be used only for the maintenance and operation of the stadium and other improvements and for the payment of rentals and purchase price of such improvements.

The proviso which says that all athletic moneys shall be kept in a separate fund is not new to the New Castle school district. Three years ago Mr. Wallace advised the school board that in his opinion the athletic council system then in use was illegal and should be abandoned.

Acting upon the advice of Mr. Wallace, the school board abandoned the athletic council plan and put all athletics directly under the control of the school board. A committee consisting only of board members was named as an athletic committee. All moneys received from athletics are put into a separate fund and are disbursed only by warrant of the legally authorized officers.

This athletic fund is held by the school treasurer, who is under a separate bond for the athletic funds. The athletic funds are audited each year by the city controller.

It may be that Judge Arnold's decision concerned only the case at hand which was filed before the passage of Act 279. If so, it might appear that his opinion was valid only as to the case and would have no bearing upon any action taken under Act 279.

MOLOTOV SIDESTEPS ISSUES AT DINNER

Robert Murphy, led to a slight raising of hopes.

It was felt, at the time, that perhaps Molotov might be willing to engage in a private talk to consider prospects of reaching a compromise agreement at this conference.

Marshall went to the conference prepared for such a heart-to-heart talk. He planned a strong appeal for a basic change in Soviet foreign policy to check the deterioration in relations between Russia and the West.

Purely Social Event
But to everyone's surprise, Molotov made it clear that the luncheon was a purely social event and he did not wish to discuss business. Each time the Americans tried to bring the talk around to conference problems, the evasive Molotov shifted it right back to social topics.

Since Marshall was a guest he felt he could not press the issue and the luncheon ended without accomplishing anything.

Clay and Murphy are flying to Frankfurt tonight or tomorrow morning to be on hand for the visit of American publishers to Germany. They will return Monday.

DIVIDED COUNSEL

The Ruhr is the industrial heart of Germany, if not of Europe. Should it be taken away from Germany and put under international rule, so that its products may be used for the benefit of the continent? Or should it be left under German rule, with controls over the allocation of its output to other nations?

There is sharp disagreement on this question at the foreign ministers' conference in London. France favors international rule of the Ruhr; Britain opposes it. The United States delegation is divided. Russia, unable to adopt her usual attitude of opposition to whatever the other three want, is biding her time.

Inside the American delegation John Foster Dulles and Ambassadors Douglas and Smith support the French position. General Clay, Ambassador Murphy and another advisor on Germany take the opposite stand, and there are indications that Secretary Marshall leans to their view.

The latter group is probably right in saying that carving the Ruhr out of the body of Germany would create unrest in the Reich for generations, giving the Soviet Union a good chance to win the German people by offering to help them get back their lost territory in the West.

The Russians, in fact, have already started a campaign along these lines. Molotov is using the foreign ministers' conference as a sounding-board to convince the German people that only the Soviet Union can save their nation from complete dismemberment.

RETORT COURTEOUS

Chivalry, which sometimes seems to be receding into the dim reaches of tradition, apparently still exists—in some measure, at least—in the modern business office. This conclusion is based upon two stories that appeared on the same day in the newspapers recently.

In Albany, N. Y., some business college graduates (female) totted up the things they didn't like about bosses. No. 1 peeve was the bird who hands out last-minute typing jobs at quitting time. Other objectionable qualities were mumbling, smoke-blowing, errand-dodging, and issuing "harmless" invitations to dinner.

In St. Louis, some other business college people (male) listed the things they did like about modern secretaries. They're more intelligent, better trained, more attractive, and they have a good chance of marrying their boss, said the men.

It is not revealed how the lines of communication are operating between Albany and St. Louis, but that certainly seems to be turning the other cheek for fair.

TANKERS PUT TO WORK

Perhaps more because of the efforts of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts than because of what was said in these columns the other day, the Maritime Commission is putting 50 idle tankers back in service. These tankers, as pointed out here, were rusting away in ports when they ought to have been doing their part in relieving the threatened fuel oil and gasoline shortage.

It will be good news to the entire eastern part of the country that the Maritime Commission has seen the light. It ought not to have been necessary to force it into action or to call its attention to the waste of shipping it was permitting.

With all the talk of lack of transportation for the oil industry, elementary common sense should have dictated the reconditioning and operation of the tankers.

Probably the East is not yet out of the woods insofar as its supply of oil and gasoline is concerned. But oil men are confident that if every available facility is pressed into use, there will be no serious shortages.

FEWER STRIKES

One highly encouraging report as the end of the year approaches is that of the Bureau of Labor Statistics concerning the decline of work stoppages in the United States. According to the government agency, the trend has been steadily downward since last April, when it became apparent Congress would do something about labor reform. In October only 175 strikes involving 60,000 workers began.

With so many object lessons in the day's news, nobody has to be told what widespread work stoppages can do to a nation's economy. A people which knows the value of production and keeps interference with it at a minimum has its feet firmly on the ground.

A psychologist states that if you shout at children they won't pay any attention to you. Will this child expert please tell us what tone of voice to use so that the children will pay some attention to us?

A Georgia court rules that service is where you find it. But that doesn't settle the problem. Where can you find it?

It is said that another big American loan will save Great Britain, including, we suppose, the socialistic Labor Party.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

Possibility that a real "Holy War" in Palestine may be deferred until after the withdrawal of British troops was seen in well-informed circles today.

Despite continued and widening clashes, it is nevertheless true that the present situation falls a great deal far short of "war."

From a purely materialistic viewpoint, it must be admitted that the casualties, however regrettable, are not heavy.

And it is significant that many Arab spokesmen have emphasized that attacks on Jews and upon American, British and Soviet institutions in the Middle East, are not being directed from any central source.

In other words, they are ascribed to the rag tag and bob-tail of Arab extremists. At least one leader of the Moslems has said that such unauthorized disturbances damage rather than aid the Arab cause.

But this does not mean that the present riots will dwindle out into nothingness.

Extend Many Months
On the contrary, sporadic battles are bound to occur over a period of many months.

When the British withdrawal is completed, or nearly so, then the real test will come.

There is no means or purpose of attempting to disguise the very deep resentment that the Arabs feel over the partitioning of Palestine.

The vigor with which their most distinguished leaders fought against it in the United Nations General Assembly simply mirrors in diplomatic tones the much more violent indignation experienced by the rank and file.

There may yet be a peaceful solution. But it is difficult to foresee a permanent one. The Arab if nothing else is a patient man. His belief in "Kismet" is all encompassing.

Arabs Have Hotheads
And if he believes that destiny calls for an Arab world from Casablanca to the Russia Steppes, it does not matter too greatly whether fulfillment comes in this generation or the next.

But as among all peoples, the Arabs have their hotheads who feel that too great delay is an insult to the prophet and a man-made interference with a holy decree.

Extremists on both sides are certain to keep the Middle East in a state of turmoil. They may or may not.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A noted Chicago physician has just described the symptoms of senile dementia.

After reading them I have come to the conclusion that senile dementia is confined not only to the very old but to millions of people of all ages.

"Senile dementia is much more prevalent among stupid individuals," says the physician, "than it is among brilliant ones. A brain which never has been used to its utmost capacity is much more likely to atrophy than is a brain which is employed to its fullest extent."

Now for the symptoms.

"A gradual narrowing of the mental horizon, with interest in the outside world giving way to preoccupation with the immediate surroundings, a disregard of today's happenings in favor of those of yesterday, and eventually the confining of interest to the primordial stimuli of food, sleep, warmth and other bodily needs."

Among the hundreds of people I know many show definite symptoms of senile dementia, according to the good doctor's diagnosis, and, I am ashamed to admit, I have a few of them myself.

"How about your own acquaintances?"

"How many people you know really have any sincere interest in the outside world except as it concerns themselves?"

For instance, Does the average person want to avoid war with Russia because he is concerned with mankind in general, or because he does not want to lose any of his own kink in a war or have to be drafted or undergo the inconveniences of wartime restrictions?

And how about that symptoms of interest only the primordial stimuli of food, sleep, warmth and other bodily needs?

I know dozens and dozens of people, many of them brainy and well-educated, to whom life means nothing but "primordial stimuli." They go along thinking of nothing but their own comfort and convenience.

As long as they have plenty to eat, nice clothes to wear, a warm place in which to sleep and play cards, everything is all right with the world, no matter how many millions elsewhere may be starving to death.

Only one symptom of which the doctor speaks is missing in those people.

They definitely are concerned with today's happenings and don't care a fig for yesterday or tomorrow.

Today's luncheon; today's appointment with the hairdresser or tailor; today's card party; tonight's pleasure—that's all that matters. Yesterday is forgotten; tomorrow is far away.

But, alas! How soon tomorrow will have become yesterday!

Words Of Wisdom

To be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature; to be so to the utmost of our abilities, is the glory of man.—Addison.

not realize that such unsettled conditions make a fertile ground for propagandists and even more powerful opponents.

In reaching its majority decision to partition Palestine, the U N Assembly considered every facet of the present and future. It seems to have taken another of those "calculated risks."

And only time can show whether they have produced an era of understanding or one of uncontrolled bloodshed.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOME HAS MANY TRAGEDIES

From time immemorial many mothers and children have endured awful hardships, privations and heartaches over drunken husbands and fathers.

Among the tragic letters I must read from mothers are about the father who, when drunk, terrifies the mother and children. So often the father is a person who when sober is a lovable, considerate husband and father. He may have been earning a good income but appears to the mother to be slipping on his job, menacing the security of the family.

Protecting Children

Often the mother has tried to protect the children from humiliations over the father, or the mother and children together bear the ignominy of trying to hide it from the relatives and neighbors. Some of the cases I must read about are desperate.

I wish to refer the wife of such a husband to Alcoholics Anonymous. If she is tactful she might induce her husband to get in touch with this organization which has helped many alcoholics to cure themselves and in consequence restore the happiness and self-respect of their family. A wife might be more successful in having her husband make this contact through some male friend of his.

Local Units
There are many local units of Alcoholics Anonymous throughout the United States, throughout the world, indeed. Anyone may ascertain the address of the nearest unit by writing to "The Alcoholic Foundation," P. O. Box 459, Grand Central Annex, New York 17, N. Y. There are no fees.

A pamphlet issued by the Philadelphia group states: "A. A. is a group of men and women for whom alcohol has become a problem in their lives and who, admitting it, have decided to do something about it. . . . In our effort to recover we learn that there is a power greater than ourselves and that we can depend on this power, which effects in one sense a spiritual or personality change. . . ."

"We believe that much of the success of A. A. is due to our ability, as ex-drinkers, to secure the confidence of the new man. We understand how his reasoning power has broken down, when his subconscious desire to drink becomes a controlling factor in his life. No new trick or alibi can escape our understanding because we have indulged in, or experienced, all of these things ourselves. After exhaustive study our simple principle of happy existence without drinking has drawn upon the resources of medicine, psychiatry and religion. These, plus our own experiences, have been streamlined in such form that they can be accepted by anyone, of any faith or creed, or in many cases by those who have agnostic leanings." The program helps the alcoholic save his face and gain self-respect.

It would be wonderful if no father or any other person ever got drunk. The surest way is for him never to have imbibed at all. Certainly, a very reasonable standard for every person is never to take enough alcoholic liquor to endanger his complete mastery of his mind, emotions and conduct.

Hints On Etiquette

The self-gift is gaining popular favor. Give a gift certificate, if you don't know what the recipient choose a gift they really want, would like and she or he can't return it is a bridal present, a birthday or Christmas gift.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

What did you do ten years ago today . . . maybe you don't exactly remember, but we took the time to look over a newspaper of ten years ago and we found a few items that struck our eye and if you are interested you may read them below.

In this city the streets had been wet from a rainy mist which preceded the snow. Until late in the afternoon streets in the downtown district were slushy, but as the snow continued the weather turned colder and the wet snow froze up making driving conditions perilous. Snow fell to a depth of 3 inches.

Employees of the W. P. A. today started construction in Cascade Park of a new kitchen and dining room in the grove, and a new lavatory at the bend leading from the upper portion of the park towards the grove. Councilman J. D. Alexander, director of parks, was authorized to take bids and purchase sufficient material required in construction. The bill will be paid next year.

In the food angle we picked a store at random and found that they were selling creamery butter for 38c a lb. and bacon, half or whole slab, was 26c. Tying right in with the present reading concerning the big wedding in Europe we found that ten years ago the Duke and Duchess of Windsor spent the first Christmas of their wedded life at Cannes, France.

We also found this short item and we quote:
"It was announced that Robert A. (Bob) McNeill, the big New Castle High left tackle, was being selected by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. McNeill is rightfully deserving of the honor bestowed upon him as he did a lot of fine tackling this past season. He is a good plunger and a good team mate."

Train Guns On Free Trade

EN ROUTE EAST THROUGH TEXAS, Dec. 6.—The sheep growers and cattle growers of the west are rallying to maintain the tariff wall that has protected them through the years from foreign competition. They know that they can exert powerful political pressures, particularly in the Senate.

Their target is the long and complicated series of tariff agreements negotiated in Geneva, Switzerland last summer and this fall. Those agreements are a preface to the free-trade charter incorporated in the international trade organization. They represent a heroic victory for world sanity—a victory that the scoffers and the doubters never believed in.

Made Tariff Concessions
The United States made tariff concessions on woollens, leather goods, whiskey, pottery and some other products. In return, other nations made sweeping concessions which eventually will enable American manufacturers to reach large new markets.

Most important of all, the nations in the British Commonwealth agreed to modify their ironclad imperial preference system on tariffs. This was a signal triumph for the hard-working negotiators in Geneva.

Certainly the United States was obliged to agree to lower some of its tariff walls. We cannot go on forever exporting our products all over the world unless we are willing to buy what other countries have to sell.

In a time of high prosperity, imports can be absorbed and the necessary adjustments can be made within the country. That is one way to promote prosperity both at home and abroad.

Consider Another Angle
Consider the opposition of the wool growers and the stockmen from another angle. A minority—powerful and highly organized minority—is campaigning to break down present grazing restrictions on U. S. public lands. This selfish minority is waging relentless warfare on the U. S. Forest Service. In their greed, they threaten the very life of the land and the life-giving water beneath it.

It is asking for national bankruptcy to trade the land for a commodity that can be bought cheaply in the world market. If wool is necessary to national defense, then let's buy it in quantity and stockpile it.

In my opinion, approval by Congress of the International Trade Organization is just as vital as adoption of the European recovery program. Congress must also renew the reciprocal trade agreement act when its expires.

Not For Free Trade?
To do less will be to announce that this country does not believe in the restoration of free trade. Coming from the most powerful industrial nation on earth, such a statement would be a disaster.

an announcement would have a fateful effect.

This may be the moment to recall a little history. In 1930 Congress adopted the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, which pushed American tariffs to new high levels. The act was passed in spite of dire warnings of what the consequences would be. A thousand economists and experts signed a petition setting forth in detail the evils that were certain to flow from such legislation.

President Hoover approved the act, although he said he did so reluctantly. The evils that had been predicted came swiftly and in abundance.

Put Up Tariffs

Other nations put up their tariffs. At Ottawa, imperial preference was ratified.

The Smoot-Hawley Tariff act was the herald of world economic collapse. In its wake came the disasters that led directly to World War II.

This time Congress would not have to pass a Smoot-Hawley Act. Mere rejection of the reasonable concessions negotiated at Geneva and failure to renew the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act would be sufficient.

The cattle growers and the wool growers are a very small minority of the American people. They must not be allowed to initiate the kind of political log-rolling which can defeat the last best hope of peace on earth.

BON VOYAGE GIFTS

Question: "I have been invited to a party to be given in honor of a man and his wife who are moving to a distant city. Must I give them a going-away gift? If so, for whom should I buy my gift—the man or the woman? Could you give me some ideas to what I should present?"

Answer: Of course, you may go empty-handed but guests, in such cases, usually give their departing friends "something to remember them by." If you do not wish to buy separate gifts, buy a joint gift for them. If they are fond of cards, they will appreciate a bridge set for use on the train; or possibly a travelling chess set, a box of candy, a book inscribed to both, some of their favorite magazines, a travelling stationery set are a few of the many items useful and practical for a journey—the price range depending upon your own desire and intimacy with the travellers.

Question: When should thank-you notes for bon voyage gifts be sent? Must they be written while on the trip or after one returns?

Answer: You must not wait until after you return to attend to this correspondence. These notes should be written during your voyage since after you have arrived at your destination you will no doubt be so busy that this duty might be neglected or forgotten.

Question: Should a man ever refuse to allow a member of the stagline to cut in, especially when he is reluctant to give up his partner? Must male guests dance with the hostess or is this optional?

Answer: No. When "cutting in" is the rule of the dance, a man should relinquish his partner, no matter how unwilling he is to do so. Even if the hostess is too busy to dance, he must show her courtesy by asking her to dance.

State Police Say:

There's an old saying that every road has a turning. This adage holds dangerous implications for the driver who overdrives his headlights on a road with which he is not familiar. Many night-time accidents occur when cars are driven at a speed greater than will permit them being stopped within the distance illuminated by their headlights. You are taking a chance whenever you drive 45 miles per hour or over at night.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

Something On "Republican Rebels"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—It always has been true in politics that one of the surest ways to get that personal publicity for which most men in public office yearn and without which many wither and fade is to make oneself a nuisance to the majority of one's own party.

EVIDENCES of this basic political fact are unusually plentiful at this time among the Republicans in the Senate, where their party has a very slender margin of control and a few defections may reduce it to futility. This is the type of situation which offers the richest rewards in newspaper notices to those with a tendency to buck the party leadership and it is not surprising the number of such senators has increased since the last session. Most parties have them.

UNDOUBTEDLY some are men of conviction and character but by no means all of them. Quite a few are largely motivated by the itch for favorable publicity and know no other way to acquire it. Once they break away from the leadership they are there. In the first place, the break is news. Where the margin is so small, any indication of a split naturally is of public interest. Under existing circumstances, one rebel's voice carries a lot farther than that of twenty regulars. And the so-called rebel is always more articulate. Naturally, the reporters leap to get his side and play him up.

NO MATTER how wrong he may be nor how cheap he is, the rebel really makes news. In consequence, he reaps the publicity benefits. In the second place, he especially appeals to the left wing—New Deal columnists and commentators of the Roosevelt regime who have become incurable professional liberals and whose disposition is to rush up on the roof and cheer anyone who seems to go in the old New Deal direction. Particularly is this true if he opposes reduction in governmental costs and advocates the general economic and social program of the CIO propagandists. As a result of this attitude upon the part of a considerable number of publicists and the eagerness with which some of the so-called rebel senators lend themselves to it, a number of what seem to be ridiculously phony "liberals" are being built up.

ALL A Republican senator has to do to gain the support of the left-wing journalists is to vote a few times against cutting appropriations and in favor of CIO proposals. He then will find himself gratefully alluded to in the press as "able," "clear-headed," "hard-hitting," "forthright," "broad-minded," "independent," "thoughtful," or by other stock terms of a laudatory nature. Also, inevitably he will be called a "humanitarian" and contrasted with the "reactionary," "hard-boiled," "narrow-minded," "selfish," "penny-pinching," "Tories," who want to go back to "the Harding days" and "return the American workman to slavery."

THE WHOLE game is so transparent that it is amazing more people do not see through it. An illuminating story is being told of how one senator came to be a "great liberal." Coming from a conservative state, until about a year ago it had been the invariable habit of this senator to vote with his older and generally conservative colleague. One day an amendment came up upon which his colleague had voted and then left the chamber. The senator wanted to vote with his colleague but got confused and voted exactly the other way. When he found it out it was too late to change. He felt rather badly about it until the next morning when he found himself played up in the press as a "liberal" commended for his independence, courage and enlightenment.

THIS was a great surprise to him. It was the first favorable publicity he had ever had and it certainly did things to him. The next time he had a chance he again voted against his colleague and again was deluged with praise by some of our most eminent journalistic observers. Now he regularly waits until he finds how his colleague is voting and then votes against him. The result is he has become a sort of liberal hero. He has had magazine articles written about him and talks the liberal patter as fluently as any. Probably this is not exactly a true story, but it is not very far off the track.

TO REPEAT, none of this means there are not among the alleged rebels some sincere men. Nor does it mean that even phony rebellions of this type do not often serve a useful purpose. They keep the party leaders from becoming too smug and going too far. They are a source of courage and power. They compel compromises that may be in the national interests. They may force action along progressive lines. On the other hand, if the rebellion is manned by publicity seeking demagogues and promoted by extremists, it might bring about legislative chaos, destroy all party potency and do a great deal of damage to the country.

Center U. P. Song Services Continue

Interest continues to grow in the community service which is conducted each Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Center U. P. church. Miss Shirley Loeffler will offer special music at the service Sunday evening, December 7. Illustrated songs will also feature the program. Rev. W. F. Holmes, pastor of the congregation, has chosen "The Cock Crows" as his sermon theme.

A great deal of interest is also being shown in the contest that is being conducted between the Bible schools of the Oak Grove and Center U. P. church. The contest will close the last Sunday of this month.

Rev. David Webb To Address Youth

Youth For Christ Ensemble Will Present Special Music Tonight At Baptist Church

As soloist and speaker at the New Castle Youth for Christ meeting this evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. David D. Webb of Enon Valley will be presented. It is announced by the Youth for Christ Board.

The speaker was heard earlier this year on the program and due to the good reception given him and his young people, he has been recalled.

The Youth for Christ ensemble led by Miss Mary Aiken will be presented in several special selections during the evening program. Rev. Howard Sartell will again be present to direct the evening meeting which takes place at the First Baptist church, North at East street.

Rev. Alvin Peters, a returned missionary, will be present on next Saturday evening, to address the young people.

Congregationalists To Meet In Central Christian Church

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, announced today that there will be no services tomorrow in the church, due to the lack of heat.

One service is planned for the congregation and that will be held in the Central Christian church auditorium on East Long avenue at 2 o'clock. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will take place during the service.

A new heating system has been ordered for the church and as soon as installation is completed, the services will be transferred back to the Reynolds street church.

The Shelby Male Chorus of Ellwood City is to present a concert of secular music at the First U. P. church, Albert street at Clenmore Boulevard on Tuesday evening, December 9, at 8 o'clock.

The chorus is now beginning its 11th season having been formed in 1937. It is made up of 40 voices and had 19 of its number in the armed forces during the war. The chorus sings both secular and sacred music and has given numerous concerts in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. In a concert presented by the group in the First U. P. church last year, over 700 were in attendance.

Mr. James T. Croft, their director, is unusually well qualified for male chorus work, having sung many years with The Greater Pittsburgh Male Chorus. He has done a marvelous job with his male chorus which is recognized as one of the finest choruses in the Pittsburgh district.

MOTOR TRUCKS ARE A PART OF EVERYTHING YOU DO

The roof over your head, the furniture in your home, the pipes which bring you water, the eggs you had for breakfast, the newspaper you read, the clothes you wear, the coal which warms your home, the movie that entertains you—all of them have used motor trucks at some time in their journey to you.

In Pennsylvania 4000 communities have no other link with the outside world than by motor transportation. Motor trucks are an indispensable part of the American way of life. They touch your every activity, without them life in these United States would be much different.

Retirement Plan Adopted Friday

Commissioners Adopt Plan for Employees, To Be Handled By Insurance Company

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

With only two commissioners voting, a retirement plan for county employees, elected and appointed, was adopted Friday. The details of the plan were worked out behind closed doors with the commissioners and retirement committee present. The adoption by the county commissioners is subject to the approval of County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr.

The retirement plan as adopted (terminates a survey of several months in which a number of ideas were scrutinized. The commissioners have felt the employees were entitled to some security inasmuch as they are not eligible for social security benefits.

Only Under 60
The plan is that of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., presented through C. Hugh Blair and associates, the local representative being Calvin Rasey.

All salaried employees who are not beyond 60 and who have had three years service are entitled to join the retirement plan. Pensions will be paid monthly beginning at age 65 to those who are now past 55. For those persons past 55, pensions will begin in 1957. Earlier pensions are provided upon a pro rata basis.

The cost of the plan will be borne by the county and the employees upon a basis to be agreed upon but the county will pay all the first year premiums. This will approximate $26,000. Money has already been laid aside by the county commissioners to meet with the obligation. Premiums vary with the age of the employee and the salary he draws. The pension will provide about 25 percent of the employee's yearly salary with a maximum of $84 per month and a minimum of $23 per month. The plan carries disability benefits so that pensions can begin in the event employees become disabled before retirement age. In addition, there is an insurance provision which permits employees to carry an insurance policy, but premiums for the insurance must be paid entirely by the employees.

Under the plan, County Controller Andrew M. Dadds will be the pension manager. The deliberations carried on back of closed doors concerned the mechanics of the plan and how it would work out. County Commissioner Karl T. Rohrer suggested that other companies should be permitted to submit bids on the same type of contract.

After the plan had been worked out and all discussion ended, the doors were opened and the plan was adopted. Earl R. Wimer and Joseph F. Travers voting for it and Commissioner Karl T. Rohrer not voting. In explanation of his not voting Mr. Rohrer said "my refusal to vote should not be taken as indicating opposition to the plan or to the company which received the contract. I favor the idea of a retirement and realize the company getting the contract is a sound one. It was my thought in the closed meeting that other companies should have been permitted to present plans upon the same set-up as was adopted."

DIVORCE COURT
Judge John G. Lamoree held divorce court on Friday. Judge W. Walter Braham is still in Pittsburgh trying a case having to do with the numbers racket and charges that certain police officers got a cut from the proceeds.

NO MARRIAGE LICENSES
Rather unusually, there have been no marriage licenses applied for in the past 48 hours. This is a new record in the past six years.

NO DEER AGAIN
Once again county officials have gone deer hunting and no deer. County Commissioner Carl T. Rohrer, County Controller Andrew M. Dadds and Deputy Sheriff Tom O'Brien have returned from hunting trips but didn't get close enough to a deer to put salt upon his tail.

MRS. MARY E. CONTI

A woman, who by accident received the job of court interpreter in this county in the year 1900, has been active in that position ever since. She is Mrs. Mary E. Conti, whose presence on "The Hill" has become almost symbolic of judicial routine here.

Mrs. Conti, whose work as interpreter has fallen off through the years with the non-English speaking group of the community becoming extinct, busies herself mainly now with the duties of a matron. As tipstaff she is in charge of the women jurors when criminal court is in session.

"I had no ambition to assume the job as court interpreter," said Mrs. Conti, recalling how she received the position. "I was a very young girl at that time and had been secured by Attorney Robert K. Aiken to interpret the testimony of one of his clients. During the course of the trial, another interpreter, on the prosecution side, made a translation and I leaped to my feet and contested the interpretation, which was wrong. During recess, Judge William D. Wallace, on the bench at the time, called me into his chamber and I thought I was to be held for contempt of court. However, he simply asked me if I was well versed in Italian and I said yes. He said he was pleased with my work in that field and said that henceforth, if I desired, I could be the official court interpreter. I have been on the job ever since."

Born In Italy
Mrs. Conti was born Mary Altieri in the Piedmonte of Italy in 1887 and came to the United States with her parents at a tender age. The family settled in New Castle, where Mrs. Conti attended public schools. She married Michael Conti, who died January 6, 1935. There are three children, Mrs. H. M. Fenati, Lawrence Conti and Mrs. Rachel Pascarella. There are also nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Conti served under Judge Wallace for four years and since has served with the following judges: W. E. Porter, S. Plummer Emery, R. L. Hildebrand, James A. Chambers, W. Walter Braham, Thomas W. Dickey, Charles Matthews and John G. Lamoree.

Mrs. Conti remembers that perhaps her busiest time as interpreter was in 1907-08 during the "Black Hand" cases when Judge Porter was on the bench.

Active Citizen
Always a civic-minded resident, Mrs. Conti has been very active in the community. She is one of the founders of the American Red Cross chapter here in 1917 and still serves on the board. She has been president of the L. C. B. A. for the past 25 years, is president of the Mothers of Sorrow religious group of the St. Vitus church, is a first vice-president of the Sons of Italy, an officer in the Catholic Center and a member of the Holy Rosary of St. Vitus church.

Mrs. Conti can be found at the court house every day and is very contented in her work. "As I look back on almost a half-century of service here, I realize that I would have liked no other job as much. It has been an interesting period in my life." This month Mrs. Conti will have completed 47 years on the job.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

cizing Russia and her satellites, but there can be little question but that Soviet obstructionism is frustrating the purposes of the United Nations. Many persons are now convinced that Russia's participation in the United Nations was not prompted by any sincere desire to promote world peace and justice, but to use the organization as a sounding board to propagandize her own aims, to bring about disagreement and delay while she completes her Communist conquest of Europe, Manchuria and Korea, and finally to render the whole United Nations project impotent and bring it into contempt among the nations. In other words, the Soviets are under suspicion of entering the United Nations in order to sabotage it from the inside, just as they infiltrate into Labor Unions for the purpose of sabotaging industry. Regardless of motive, the plain fact is that Russia's record thus far proves her a liability instead of an asset to the United Nations, and it soon will be necessary to limit the Soviet veto power or to form a new organization without her.

College Students Launch $2978 Drive

Seek To Raise Funds For Five
Non-Sectarian Organizations
In Five Days

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 6.—Westminster college students will launch their annual community fund drive December 8 and it will continue through December 13. Titled "Westminster Shares," the purpose of the project is to raise money for five non-sectarian organizations.

A goal of $2978 has been set for the drive. A major portion of the money is to support a short-term teacher in Gordon college, Rawalpindi, Pakistan. The proceeds from this year and of the previous year's provides for round trip transportation and two years' salary for a teacher chosen from the Westminster student body.

The conflicts in India have necessitated an appeal for medical teams to be sent from America. Among those responding to this appeal is Mrs. Dorothy Dewar Christy, former student who served as a graduate nurse on campus. A portion of the fund will be used to pay her transportation costs.

Three other causes are included in the budget. They are the World Student Service Fund, which contributes to the relief of suffering among students of 18 different countries; the American Mission to Lepers; and the Save the Children Federation.

In charge of the campaign is a committee composed of Robert Johnson, New Castle; Betty Fair, Sharon; Marjorie Irwin, Uniontown; Margaret Jenkins, New Eagle; Betty Holt, New Wilmington; Catherine Roedema, Garfield, N. J.; Charles Pitcher, Pittsburgh, and Frank Jones of Butler.

First Aid Classes Start At College of the American Red Cross Friday evening. Eighteen hours of instruction is necessary for the completion of the course. An instructor from New Castle is in charge. Approximately 20 students are enrolled in the course, whose purpose it is to be prepared to give aid in case of any emergency that might arise on the campus or in the community.

Christmas Kettles Of Salvation Army On Streets Today

Residents Will Have Opportunity
To Give In Annual Collection
For Relief Of Needy

It was announced today by Adjutant Thelma Dundon, in command of the Salvation Army here, that the Christmas kettles, which are placed on the streets each year during the Christmas season to receive donations from the public, with which to spread Christmas cheer among the unfortunate residents of the community who are unable to provide for themselves, were on the streets today for the first time.

The familiar sight of a member of the Salvation Army will be seen each day until Christmas standing alongside the kettles on the main street, so that all who wish, may make their contribution.

The money received in this way provides food for a Christmas dinner, gives a little Christmas cheer to the residents at the county home, and also helps to provide toys for those whose meager budgets do not provide for these little luxuries, even at Christmas time.

To Open Toy Shop
Miss Dundon stated that the Toy Shop will be open during the week before Christmas, at the Salvation Army Citadel, when the toys which will be available to the families of those receiving public assistance, and others in need, may be seen and a selection made. Approximately five toys are given to each child, and the mothers can come and make their choice, taking the toys home to be placed under a Christmas tree, or wherever the gifts are distributed in the home. Most of these toys are donated, and if not enough is received through donations, they are supplemented by articles purchased at wholesale prices.

In addition to the toys, each child receives a bag containing an orange, apple, candy, pop corn ball.

The residents of the County Home are also remembered at Christmas time, each resident receiving a bag containing an apple, orange, bar of soap, candy, etc.

Jewish War Veterans Services Are Offered For Duty In Palestine

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—National Commander Julius Klein offered the services of the Jewish War Veterans of America to the United Nations today as part of a police force to keep order in Palestine—himself as "volunteer No. 1."

Noting the violent eruptions in the Holy Land in protest against the United Nations partition plan, Col. Klein said:

"The Jewish War Veterans of the United States of America renews the proposal it put forth on August 8, when we offered our total resources to aid in the recruitment of a U. N. constabulary."

Louisbourg, the walled city and fortress built by the French on Cape Breton in what is now Canada, was once considered the greatest fortress in America.

CALL ISSUED FOR LOG SAW- ING CONTEST ENTRY

A log sawing contest will be a feature of the 1948 Pennsylvania Farm Show. The contest is scheduled for Thursday night, January 15, at Harrisburg.

Each county is entitled to enter two teams of two participants each. Participants must be residents of Pennsylvania and either farmers or resident lumbermen and must not since January 1943 have given sawing exhibitions as representatives of commercial concerns.

According to the rules, each team will provide its own 2-man crosscut saw. It may be any length and make. The logs will be furnished by the Farm Show Commission. For the preliminaries and semi-finals, the diameter will be about 15 inches, while for the finals the diameter will be about 20 inches.

Entries, including the names of participants must be made to the Director, Pennsylvania Farm Show, Harrisburg, Pa., not later than December 20, 1947.

One dollar for each participant, $2 per team, should accompany the application for entry. However, a third name may be included with the entry as a substitute for either member of a team who finds it impossible to attend, without additional fee. The fee will be returned, provided the team participates in the competition.

FALL-FRESHENED COWS ARE MOST PROFITABLE

Each year the dairy industry has to meet the problem of extremes in production. Now is the time to do something about that problem.

Cows bred in December will freshen in September or October of next year. Cows freshening in the fall will not only make more money for the dairyman but will help reduce the spring surplus. Fall and winter prices usually are higher than spring and summer.

because of the increased demands in the fall over the summer months.

Studies of dairy herd improvement association records show that cows freshening in September, October and November produce 649 pounds more milk, 29 pounds more fat and return over feed cost $33 more than cows freshening in June, July and August.

Another advantage of fall freshening is that calves born in the fall can be given better care and attention than calves born in the spring. Labor also can be used more efficiently and the cows given more care at freshening time.

"SONG OF THE SEASONS" IS FARM SHOW FESTIVAL

"Song of the Seasons" is the festival chosen for staging at the 1948 Pennsylvania Farm Show on Tuesday evening, January 13.

Written and directed by William R. Gordon, extension rural sociologist of the Pennsylvania State college, this annual rural talent festival will include in its program a mixed chorus, a band, folk dances and miscellaneous entertainment numbers.

Senior extension clubs of the state will put on the dances, supervised by C. P. Lang and R. A. McCall of the extension service. The Pennsylvania FAA band, directed by Dr. Henry S. Brunner, head of the department of agricultural education at the college, will play.

William J. Cupp, formerly of New Bloomfield, now of Bangor, Me., will direct the chorus. Members of church choirs, and other rural singing groups will comprise the chorus. Any person interested in taking part in the chorus may obtain registration blanks at the Agricultural Extension office.

Reserve Officer Training Schools Being Planned

Active duty training schools are being scheduled for Reserve Officers during the early spring or summer of next year. Many of you reserve officers will have a two weeks vacation due at that time so what better use could you make of this vacation than attending one of these scheduled schools. Here are some of the schools that are available: Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia; Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.; AAA and Guided Missile Branch, Fort Bliss, Texas; Ground General School, Fort Riley, Kansas; Chemical School, Edgewood Arsenal, Md.; and Engineer's School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

All schools are two-week duration, and the starting dates are spread out so as to make it convenient for you to arrange your vacation to attend one of them. You are invited to contact M/Sgt. Howard A. Wolpert, Room 516 Greer Building, New Castle, Penna. for the scheduled dates of the schools or any further information desired concerning the schools.

Mayor Receives Strange Request

ALBANY, Ga.—(INS)—Mayor W. B. Haley of Albany has received some strange requests but this latest missive tops them all. A German woman wrote and related the hardships now prevailing in her country. Then she asked the mayor to help her find a husband.

She said that her husband and only son had been killed during the war and she wanted "a dear good husband and companion."

The woman even went so far as to list specifications.

"He has to be at least six feet tall, not necessarily rich, but a dear good soul."

The final paragraph capped off the unique communication. She told the mayor that she was sorry that he would not be able to send her a husband through the mails.

During the summer of 1946, 488,819 persons visited Grand Canyon national park in northern Arizona.

If one were to spend $1 a day, it would take more than 2700 years to spend $100,000,000.

Holiday Party Planned For Vets

'Cooties' Plan Gala Christmas For Veterans In Deshon Hospital—Need Money

Christmas Day in a veterans' hospital isn't the most cheerful spot in the world. But it can be made somewhat cheerful when a crowd of healthy veterans decide to aid their stricken comrades.

The Shenango Pup Tent 25 of the Military Order of Cooties, along with other Cootie units in this district, is arranging a Christmas party for the vets in Deshon. The party will include presents, entertainment and refreshments. All of them will cost money.

An average of $10 per man has been set which means considerable in the aggregate for the 900 or more veterans in Deshon. Ellwood City has already kicked in $3000 to the fund which is a healthy kick but there is still a lot of money needed. The local Cooties have spent thousands of dollars of their own money in addition to time and energy. Now they feel the financial burden is a little heavy and they are offering the public a chance to share their satisfaction in aiding stricken vets.

George E. Hunt, Sr., of 15 West Euclid avenue is the Grand Council member of the Cooties here and money can be sent to him. It will be added to the fund which is designed to bring a little cheer into lives that have been broken in the fight for freedom.

Consistory Party Honors New Members And Ladies Friday

Cathedral Auditorium Is Packed
For Reunion Entertainment
Friday Evening

Despite inclement weather conditions Friday evening, the Cathedral auditorium was packed for the fall reunion party, staged in honor of the members of the recent class, which received the degrees of the Valley of New Castle Consistory last month.

A program of outstanding merit was presented, and the members of the class were guests at a reception tendered preceding the program in the east lodge room, the reception committee being headed by Commander-in-Chief Ill. Welty O. Rugh and the officers of the co-ordinate bodies. A block of seats was reserved for the new members and their ladies in the main section of the auditorium.

Following a program of shorts the drill team of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, presented a beautiful drill for the audience. The girls appeared in new costumes of white satin and presented a pretty picture as they went through their intricate formations under a changing color of lights. The girls were drilled by Miss Betty Bridenbaugh, drill chairman of the assembly.

With John Kirby presiding as master-of-ceremonies, a high-class program of novelty acts was presented. He was introduced by Lou Pearsall of the entertainment committee.

This consisted of the Wilfred Mae Trio, hoop artists of a high calibre; Martha Jean, marimba artist extraordinary; the Evans Four, in tap dancing numbers; Florence Berg and Johnny Kirby, in solo and duet numbers; Gleason and Sanborn, in a musical potpourri, and Mates and Hartley, in a comedy musical and acrobatic act.

During the program pep singing was led by David W. Rees, with Jim Reppman of Wampum at the Cathedral organ.

Democratic Society Meets Here Dec. 10

Five counties will be represented here December 10 when a meeting of the Democratic society will be held. The society is the new money-raising arm of the Democratic party and it is assumed the meeting here will be for the purpose of starting a war chest for the 1948 campaign.

Delegates from Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Venango counties will join with Lawrence county delegates at the meeting here.

"How do I look, Mom?"

Healthy young bodies and healthy young minds go hand in hand.

This is emphasized at school in the youngsters' physical and mental hygiene classes. But children get their "basic training" at home.

Many parents have discovered that it's easier to teach their children habits of cleanliness when there is a plentiful supply of hot water always on tap. It makes household chores easier, too.

You'll get more benefit from your convenient, low cost water supply if you provide your family with continuous hot water.

Thirty-three doctors attended the meeting, held in the late evening to permit them to finish office hours and calls.

Statement By Mayor Haven On Tax Issue

Relative to a proposal by the city to adopt legislation which will result in increased revenue for the city, Mayor John F. Haven today issued a statement as follows:

"IS THERE A NEED FOR AN INCREASE IN TAXES? It has been recognized by the State of Pennsylvania as well as many other States, that MUNICIPALITIES must have a BROADER MEANS OF TAXATION other than just the PROPERTY TAX or REAL ESTATE TAX to accomplish the many things expected of a Municipality.

"The City Council is faced with the necessity of securing additional revenue on account of the steadily increasing cost of labor and all other things required for City purposes. The question confronting Council is what is the fairest way to procure the additional revenue. We feel that real estate is carrying an unfair share of the maintenance of City government and that there are many people both in the City and just outside its limits, who are enjoying many of the privileges in the City without contributing anything toward the upkeep of its government.

"We believe that an earned income tax or a straight income tax will reach out and secure taxes from a great number of people who do not now pay taxes for the privileges they enjoy in the City and that the property owners will benefit to the full extent in experiencing a marked reduction in taxes on real estate.

"Many people are under the impression that the Assessed Valuation of 13 mills makes up the entire Budget. The Assessed Valuation of the City of New Castle is $49,646,320.00; Operating on a 11 1/4 mills basis, would make the budget $553,521.10. All other moneys are added to this such as parking meter receipts, permit money and the like from the Engineering Department, Plumbing Inspector receipts, sale of properties, etc. to make up the difference. So you can readily see that 13 mills is not the entire City Budget. All other revenues are added in.

"I would like you to keep in mind that the property owner at the present time is carrying the current heavy load of 38 mills—City 13 mills, School 20 mills and County 5 mills.

"In the next week, I will try to enlighten you, in my humble way, the workings of your City Government so that you can judge whether or not a new tax is justified and what is the correct method to levy an extra tax."

Joseph Eckles, of New Wilmington, will be the speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the New Castle Lions Club, in The Castle-Town, Tuesday. He will speak on the origin and customs of the Amish people, which should prove to be most interesting. All members are requested to report whether they will attend the blind party.

Manager Of New Castle Credit Exchange Gives Suggestions On Buying

Santa, through his purchasing agents, Mr. and Mrs. America, will be using full credit privileges this Christmas for the first time in seven years. A. J. Genkinger, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, stated today that this holiday season may see more merchandise purchased on credit than at any time in this city's history. The reason, he pointed out, is that this is the first Christmas since 1940 that credit buying has been entirely free from government restrictions. On November 1, the last controls under the war-time measure which fixed terms and payments, were eliminated. As a result, the wave of buying isn't confined just to our town, but is taking place all over the nation.

Manager Of New Castle Credit Exchange Gives Suggestions On Buying

Santa, through his purchasing agents, Mr. and Mrs. America, will be using full credit privileges this Christmas for the first time in seven years. A. J. Genkinger, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, stated today that this holiday season may see more merchandise purchased on credit than at any time in this city's history. The reason, he pointed out, is that this is the first Christmas since 1940 that credit buying has been entirely free from government restrictions. On November 1, the last controls under the war-time measure which fixed terms and payments, were eliminated. As a result, the wave of buying isn't confined just to our town, but is taking place all over the nation.

Releases Genkinger has received from the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, the trade association with headquarters in St. Louis which gives the local bureau a nationwide coverage, indicate a general surge of credit buying. While customers can technically "let their conscience be their guide" as far as credit buying is concerned, there isn't much danger of a credit spree, according to Genkinger. Credit bureaus throughout the country report an unprecedented number of inquiries from merchants checking up on credit applicants. This careful checking should do much to eliminate the danger of inflation that might result from wild credit extension, Genkinger said.

In granting credit largely on the ability to pay, merchants are helping customers guard against an excess of Christmas generosity. Credit men agree said Genkinger, that folks can avoid those "New Year's blues" from bills by following four simple rules.

1. Remember, credit doesn't raise your salary—it just lets you pay for your purchase over a longer period of time. It's all right to buy your wife a new fur coat for Christmas if you're sure you'll have the money for the last payment. Otherwise, maybe you'd better settle on a little less.

2. Keep track of the amount on each charge account. A lot of little bills can spell trouble on the first of the month unless you total the payments before buying.

3. Cooperate with credit departments by giving them the information they ask for when you open a new account. You, the merchants, and the credit bureau are all interested in getting your merchandise quickly. You can help by giving the information required.

4. Pay your bills promptly. Your credit record is important to you. Your record in our town can follow you to any of the 1,402 bureaus in America.

Genkinger, with nine years' experience in observing the credit customers of New Castle and the surrounding area, is confident they will use credit wisely now that the decision of how much to buy on time is up to them. Credit bureau files show that the vast majority of people in this area pay their bills promptly and buy wisely.

Shenango High's Wildcats threw a real scare into Ellwood City last night at the 'Cat floor before bowing, 45-42 in a thriller.

Ellwood led at the quarter, but Shenango gained a half time lead of 20-17. The Wildcats buckled in the third frame when the Blue and White poured in 21 markers.

The Nahas lads played fine ball to a man and were not dismayed by the prowess of the more experienced Wolverines. Ronny Johns was high man for the losers with 18 points, while Mattocks and Gregg paced the Tuber attack.

Ellwood played without the services of Don O'Hara, star forward, who could not attend due to the high school play.

FIRST GAME FOR COUNTY CHAMPS

Arena Floor Sunday Will Be Packed For Fast Game Between Two Strong Teams

Coach Al Gonet will take the wraps off the 1947-48 K. Pulaski "Big Five" basketball team, city and county champions for 1946-47, at the Arena floor Sunday afternoon, as the Oaklanders prepare to battle the strong Butler BISC club at 4:15 o'clock, in their first start of the year.

The basketball fans will see a crackerjack first game Sunday as the Eagles Club making their initial start in the city-county league tackle the fast FV team. Coach Bill Patton of the Eagles is confident his team will make a creditable showing, and so is Coach Teddy Galanski of the Vets. It should be a close hard-fought contest.

Pulaskis Expect Battle

The Pulaskis are looking for a tough encounter in their opener of the new season at the hands of such stars as Larry Paffrath, "Sonny" Pataky, Franny Webster, Joe Lamor, Dom Cantera, and others. Lamor is a former pro player with the Rochester Royals.

Gonet will have in his lineup Dick Armstrong, Stan Wasik, Eddie "Flash" Wenda, Joey Cooper, Vin Kelly, Charley Rea, Eddie Waldoski, John Zubkowski, Ken Cathcart, Ben Korab, and Pat Patterson.

New Castle fans who enjoy the hardcourt game will be rewarded Sunday with a slam-bang battle all the way. Both teams are highly recognized in semi-pro circles. The "Big Five" is laying a great 52 wins and eight defeats record on the lines Sunday. The prices will be sixty for adults and thirty for children, Gonet stated.

Sharkey Says Walcott Champ

By JACK SHARKEY
Former World Heavyweight Champion
(Written Especially for N. S.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Jersey Joe Walcott is the world heavyweight champion today in my book.

Walcott counter-punched his way to a clean cut decision over the heavyweight title-holder last night at Madison Square Garden, regardless of what the official score sheets show.

I was as surprised as Louis seemed to be when he was given the decision.

Louis was on the floor twice, he fumbled and let himself be sucked in for all kinds of off-balance maneuvers and never did get a chance to let go with his Sunday punch against a cute veteran who was vastly under-rated.

Made Him Look Bad

I thought Walcott made Louis foolish throughout the fight, and won at least nine of the rounds with a couple even. The latter were the ones in which Walcott let Louis take the play away from him and were actually productive of little action.

I am sure that many of the spectators gave Louis some rounds for aggressiveness—for walking in and chasing Walcott—when, as a matter of fact, Louis didn't throw a punch.

The champion spent most of the evening being whacked by counter-punches after missing his own leads.

There also will be some criticism over the way the fight was fought, with Walcott backing up most of the time and Louis pursuing him.

But don't forget this is not a hundred years ago when guys put on spikes and stood toe to toe on the turf belting away at each other.

This is modern boxing and to me the better boxer won.

In my opinion Louis should retire immediately.

Church League Games Tonight

There will be six more games at the Y today, beginning at 3:45. They will be as follows: St. George vs. First Presbyterian, First Baptist vs. S. S. Alliance, 3rd U. P. vs. First U. P., St. Paul vs. First Christian, Crofton vs. First Methodist, and the last game on the card will find the Trinity tangling with Epworth team.

The University of Delaware football team lays claim to the "smartest" eleven in the country with 16 players on "B" average or better.

Fans Boo Champion After Announcement Jersey Joe Failed

Brown Bomber, Battered And Bewildered, Squeezes By Challenger As Crowd Sits Amazed; Walcott's Let-Up Lost Bout; To Demand Re-count.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The heavyweight champion of the world today is a man with one side of his abused features squinting rather horribly out of a slit, like an eye at a speakeasy peep-hole.

His nose is badly out of whack, a poultice is needed for the sole of his pants and, in his heart, there's doubtless a dull suspicion that Jersey Joe Walcott is pre-eminent among his kind. But no titular diadem Rakishly adorns the Walcott dome.

It reposes, instead, upon the familiar but bruised and outraged noggin of a not-so-great Joe Louis, left there by the grace of circumstance and a split-decision at the end of 15 rounds last night.

Walcott, the disdained pariah of the betting pits at a fabulous 12-1, sat Louis abruptly down with a right to the chin in the first minute of play. He repeated in the fourth round, thereby accounting for the sensitive state of the champion's pants.

He out-boxed, out-fought and out-fought Louis from the first round to the thirteenth, and had a hilarious time with head and body feints, and foot pivots, the overall effect making the other guy look like a patsy.

He won by 2-1 on the round tally kept specifically for Louis' guidance in his own corner by a score of 8-3-4, the last being "even" rounds.

No denouement in all the lore of the prize ring ever saw the like of this fantastic performance by a middle-aged pappy of six, with the garbled, warped aspect of a Hal-lowe'en pumpkin.

Wins Over Fans

He won the hearts of a Madison Square Garden crowd of 18,194, with his new Garden record of $216,477 in gross receipts.

He took Louis off his trolley-track technique, with an effect that was basically disastrous.

He stepped in boldly at times on fistiana's big fright-wig man.

NO EVIDENCE JOE FRACTURED HAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Dr. Vincent A. Nardiello announced today after an examination that there was no outward evidence that Joe Louis had fractured his right hand.

Louis hit Jersey Joe Walcott on the head in the fifth round and said after the fight he had been unable to use the hand effectively through the balance of the fight.

Dr. Nardiello is the New York Boxing Commission physician.

With a record of 52 knockouts in 60 fights, and clouted him boisterously in the snoot. The guy was simply immense in putting on this great series of upsets since the time of Corbett and Sullivan.

The only thing Walcott didn't do was take the official decision.

The referee, Ruby Goldstein voted for Walcott by 7 to 6, with two rounds even. The other two officials went with Louis—Judge Marty Monroe by a round-score of 9 to 6; Judge Frank Forbes by 8-6, with one even.

But, in the abiding view of ringside and press-row, they went alone.

In fact, the strident clamor that ensued was of a violence and impact which suggested broken windows in Keokuk and storm cellars for the faint of heart. And much of it was directed at Louis, until now their revered idol.

Booted First Time

He heard himself booed and derided for the first time last night. The occasion also marked the first time that Joe Louis ever tried to leave the ring without waiting for the official decision.

Today, Acting Director Sol Strauss, of the 20th Century Club, was fixing to exploit all this miscellaneous dander and turmoil by getting the principals down on white paper for the inevitable rematch next summer. Said he, excitedly:

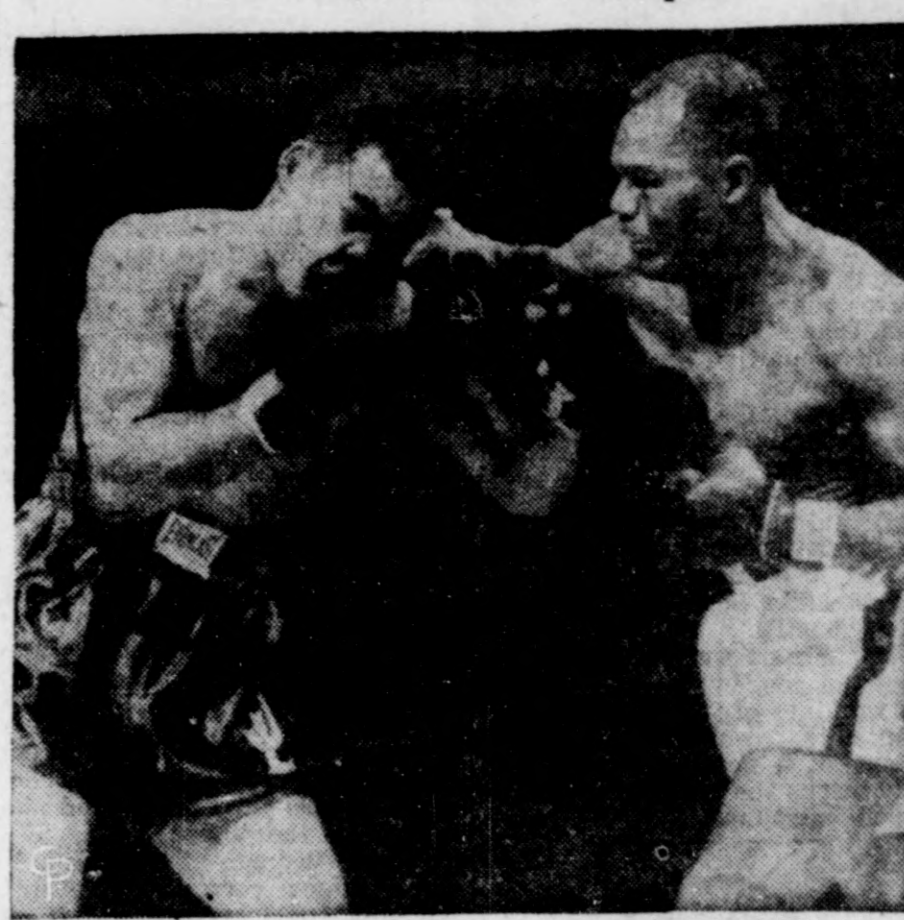

"It'll make a million dollars, two millions"—his voice trailing off through baffled by the immensity of the thing. Two elements, how-

St. Louis U. Coaches Quit

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The football coaching staff of St. Louis University resigned Friday.

The staff was headed by Dukes Duford who has been head football coach and athletic director at the University since 1940.

Duford said in a statement that he tendered his resignation because of the showing of the 1947 varsity football squad. The team won only four of its ten games this season.

Also resigning were Assistant Coaches Carl Mullenbaux; Bob Klenck; Dick Weber, and Joe Drabelle.

Mullenbaux, former star of the Green Bay, Wis., Packers' professional team, was Duford's chief assistant.

Irish In Vital Game Of Season

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A capacity crowd of 104,000 fans was expected to jam the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles today to see Notre Dame put its claims to the mythical national football championship on the block against Southern California.

The Fighting Irish were rated to win by at least two touchdowns, but head coach Frank Leahy sounded his usual blues song:

"I can't understand how the odds are so heavy on us. Everything points to a Southern California victory."

But the experts and statistics told a different story.

Notre Dame, with four All-Americans, has run roughshod over eight opponents this season, rolling up 233 points in the process. And now the Irish stand one game from their first perfect football season since 1930.

But the fans, who will brave predictions of rain, will see a Trojan team bent on scoring the biggest upset of the season.

Gardner System Revision Sought

McKeesport Feels It 'Ain't Been Done Right By', But What About New Castle?

Plans seem to be under way to revise the Gardner system of ratings for WPIAL football teams. Proponents of the revision plan say the system now in use sometimes handicaps teams that should be considered for championship play.

Apparently the record of the McKeesport high school team and its failure to be considered for WPIAL championship play has sparked the idea of change. McKeesport fans point with pride that their team has been chosen to play at Miami, Fla., on Christmas Day and naively ask "doesn't that show we have a real team?" Maybe it does, but just as naively we would like to point out this chilly December afternoon that Bethlehem, Pa., was the fair-haired team for the Miami playoff up to 4 o'clock Thanksgiving afternoon. When New Castle fans got to Bethlehem they were informed that Bethlehem was to get the Miami bid if they defeated New Castle. New Castle won by the score of 28-6 and the question now arises "where does that leave New Castle?"

McKeesport has a good team, so does New Kensington, but on Thanksgiving afternoon New Castle would have beaten either of them without getting winded, in the opinion of football fans at the game.

Are Air-Minded

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The National Football League has taken to the air, according to a report released today by League Statistician Hugh L. Ray.

During the 1947 season, league clubs have averaged 357.4 yards per game on forward passes, compared to only 286 yards per contest averaged over the 1936-46 decade, Ray said.

Only six per cent more passes were tossed this season than during the ten year period, however. Ray said the higher passing average did not reflect a decrease in rushing. In 1947 the clubs averaged 279.5 yards by rushing, compared with the 1936-46 average of 251.6 yards.

necessary to have a variety of proteins in a ration. Recently it has been determined there is an unknown factor in the protein utilized by the fish. This factor is found in fish meal. This is why "Our Quality" Laying Mash contains such a wide variety of proteins from dried milk, flax, soybean, liver and glandular meals, yeast, etc. "Our Quality" Mash contains 40% protein. This is why you get the best results when you feed this feed rather than the "ordinary" 20% protein mash. Try it you will buy it.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN FODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6.—Lovely Anne Baxter is a happy Hollywood wife and she doesn't give a rip who knows it. She's found it much more fun going out in the evening with hubby John Hodiak than it ever was when she was one of glamorland's most eligible bachelor girls.

Said Anne: "When I got out with my husband I know I'm not going to be bored for the evening."

Not Boring Now

"That wasn't true when I was single and going out with a number of men. I never knew then whether it was going to be a boring evening or not." Anne and I got talking about life in Hollywood when I visited her on the set of the "Walls of Jericho" at 20th Century-Fox.

"On one particular point, it's much more pleasant to go out with your husband," Anne explained. "When you're single the gossip columns are almost certain to link you romantically with every man who may take you out for an evening."

Sometimes that is very embarrassing for both you and the man. You may have no thought of marrying him and he may have no thought of marrying you. "I read in the columns that John and I were engaged before he'd even popped the question."

Lots To Talk About

"That was particularly embarrassing because I wanted him to," Anne laughed and added: "Before we were married I recalled the scene in 'Our Town' where an engaged couple wondered whether they'd ever be able to find enough things to talk about after marriage. I wondered, too, whether John and I would have that difficulty."

"But, we don't. We always have lots to talk about."

Forms Own Company

After 25 years in the movie business, Arthur Lubin has joined the ranks of the independents. He has formed his own company in association with Joe Nadel, who'll be in charge of production.

They've lined up two pictures for 1948. The first will be "Frances", the story of an educated army mule who talks. The second will be "The Interruption," a melodramatic murder mystery with the England of 1900 as the locale.

Before starting work on his own pictures, Lubin will direct "Babes in Toyland" for Federal films. It will be a color musical starring Elio Pinza who scored heavily with the fans in "Carnegie Hall."

Victor Herbert's original music will be kept intact, but the story will be modernized.

Story Hour Held At Public Library

Mrs. Walter McKee, Junior Librarian Conducts First Of Juvenile Story-Hour

Fifty boys and girls attended story hour held at the free public library on Thursday afternoon.

Jimmy Frog's Red Jacket, written by two New Castle residents, Margaret W. Baatz and Allura Leslie, was enthusiastically received by the young audience as were the other stories. The Adventures of Arab, the tale about a run away merry-go-round horse, by Slobodkin; Lizbeth Ann's Goat, by Provines, a Christmas story, and Kipling's Elephant's Child comprised the remainder of the program conducted by Mrs. Walter McKee, librarian, in the boys and girls room.

Story hour will be a regular feature at the library every Thursday afternoon at 3:30 and 4:15.

YOUTH IS GIVEN LONG SENTENCE

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Twenty-year-old Henry Rivers, of Spencer, Mass., Friday, was sent to Eastern Penitentiary for 12 to 24 years on charges of burglary and firing a shot at a Scranton policeman December 19, 1944.

"Any one who carries a gun into this county to commit crime will go away for a long time," said Judge M. J. Eagen when imposing sentence.

Do You Like To BLOW YOUR HORN?

You can make both pedestrians and other motorists angry by simply blowing your horn loud and long at the driver ahead just as the light turns "go." This is particularly annoying if the first car is waiting for pedestrians to get to the curb.

The courteous driver uses his wits instead of his horn. The courteous driver is the careful driver. We will gladly write your automobile insurance if you are a courteous driver.
